The American Civil War General and United States President shares his story.

Written and performed by Peter J. Grady, this one-man performance brings Civil War General and 18th President Ulysses S. Grant to life. Through storytelling, period music, and historic images, Grady explores Grant's military victories, presidential leadership, and personal life. This event offers an informative, humorous, and moving portrayal of one of America's most influential figures.

It was beyond a performance, as Peter Grady became Grant and shared history and personal stories with a range of emotions reflective of the stories he told. The research was evident, replete with a passion for the subject. The lessons learned from this period of American history are timeless and Grady's selection of incidents from Grant's life were spot-on, giving the back story for current events. I highly recommend this program."
